Environmental Policy Statement

Zenith Water is committed to ensuring its activities have both the highest positive and the lowest adverse impact on the environment, to complying with (and where feasible exceeding) all of its environment-related obligations under all relevant legislation and regulations and to adhering to the highest environmental standards possible.

This policy statement applies all Zenith Water officers, employees and contractors undertaking any activity for or on behalf of Zenith (each referred to as a Relevant Person), whether this be on Zenith Water's premises or elsewhere.

Key Goals

The main goals of this policy statement are:

- to preserve and improve the environment;
- to prevent / minimise any adverse environmental impacts that may arise from operations;
- to conform with ISO 14001:2015 and comply with all relevant compliance, legal, regulatory and statutory requirements; and
- to continuously improve.

Meaningful Obligations

Depending on their role, all Relevant Persons are responsible for ensuring that Zenith Water is and other Relevant Persons are (and must immediately report to their manager or HR Advisor if they believe that to some extent that any person to whom this policy applies is not):

- making reasonable efforts to achieve the goals of this policy statement;
- ensuring respect for the environment by utilising appropriate operating procedures, training, providing information concerning the storage, handling, distribution, use and disposal of hazardous substances;
- undertaking regular reviews of our processes to monitor and improve compliance with this policy statement; and
- providing information about and reporting in a timely manner any potential environmental hazards to the appropriate stakeholders, including other Relevant Persons, clients, authorities, and any affected person or group.
